MOOS GARDENS

:: ABOUT ::

MOOS 🌳 is a living ecosystem in Berlin next to Treptower Park that hosts regenerative residencies including Regens Unite and Funding the Commons. Since 2012, MOOS has been an ecosystem provider to find communities, sustainable startups, activists and an international residency center for future economic systems and cultural independence. It also has an event center open to the public for workshops, meetings and concerts.

seks.design 🌀 is an experience design collective building narrative design solutions for communities. Their aim is to co-create regenerative phigital solutions for the future using practical experiences (seksEDS) in urban communities like MOOS. seks is currently developing a Gen-AI conversation tool for collective journaling, Loob, that enables ambient integration of collective memory interfaces in community spaces.

the 0 : a floating home to nurture innovation

also known as the Dachgeschoss, this space serves as a community-centric project living space, embodying a blend of functionality and warmth. this sanctuary hosts seven rooms, alongside dedicated workshop spaces, meeting rooms, and versatile mini-pods, all underlined by the natural beauty of wood-beam ceilings and abundant glass to welcome natural light. it's designed to support both large gatherings and intimate organisational retreats, featuring spaces that cater to diverse needs, from catering facilities to areas for quiet contemplation. the use of unfinished wood and strategic greenery, paired with gentle, subtle lighting, ensures a welcoming atmosphere that adapts seamlessly to the changing dynamics of day and night. the 0 is the fool: a testament to the balance between creativity and community.

the 1: a space(ship) for creative catalysts

this residence stands at the forefront of regenerative living and Web 3 innovation. this modern building features 10 private rooms across four floors, complemented by a rooftop terrace for community engagement. nestled above a multi-functional event hall, it's a space where individuals converge to spearhead change through conferences, collaborative dinners, film showcases, art installations, immersive sound sessions, enlightening talks, eco-conscious festivals, and music gatherings. The 1 is the magician: merging personal sanctuary with communal dynamism, fostering a culture of creativity, sustainability, and social impact.

:: PORTAL ::

the portal at MOOS: cultivating community, inspiring change

the Hall at MOOS is our hearth, our portal. the neighborhood-facing event space is the home of our regenerative ecosystem. over 300sq.m of creative space offering a unique blend of architectural beauty and practical design. its high ceilings and distinctive pillars give it a spacious feel, ideal for hosting events for the regenerative community, from workshops to conferences, accommodating up to 150 guests. beyond its main function, the Hall encourages creativity and collaboration, with spaces for artist studios and small meeting nooks. it's designed to be the heart of MOOS, supporting and nurturing the growth of a regenerative culture

:: EXPERIENCES ::

:: NOURISHMENT ::

Seasonal, local, intuitive

in partnership with innovative caterers, we curate experiences that reflect the best of Berlin's seasonal, locally-sourced ingredients, guided by a spirit of culinary intuition.

Bacteria Bar

introduces you to the lost art of fermentation, offering a selection of probiotic-rich creations through collaborations with community projects.

Roots Radicals

offers a versatile menu of both vegan and non-vegan dishes, alongside special drink creations, all rooted in our sustainable, zero-waste philosophy.

:: RITUAL ::

Alchemical Worldbuilding

Urban Healing Unit: sauna with infusions and ceremonial journeys. We also provide custom designer experiences with sound, scent and textures.

Collective Storytelling

play with Looblabs, our gen-Ai driven conversational ecosystem that explores the narrative architecture of the space. explore how your story aligns with my story and our story.

Integration Containers

we understand the importance of transformative, community-focused experiences. our team can design, facilitate, and guide artistic programs that can help integrate powerful experiences at MOOS.

:: EXPERIMENTS ::

the y berlin

our regenerative community design lab where we facilitate building processes between artists, builders, and developers to breathe life into the future of urban living visions.

EDS

experience design studios: our monthly flagship event that interfaces with community residents and peers through ambient installations that seamlessly marry digital tools to physical spaces through ritual, storytelling, and participation.

experience grants

a new strategy to foster a purpose-driven urban community hub while also incorporating ways to redistribute capital.
experience = community x meaning².
